

biographical information

Stephen W. (Steve) Green

President, Chevron Asia Pacific Exploration and Production Company

Stephen W. (Steve) Green, 59, is president of Chevron Asia Pacific Exploration and Production Company, a position he assumed in April 2016. As president, Green will oversee Chevron's exploration and production activities in eight countries across the Asia-Pacific region.

Previous to his current position, Green served as vice president of Policy, Government and Public Affairs for Chevron Corporation where he was responsible for U.S. and international government relations, all aspects of communications, and the company's worldwide efforts to protect and enhance its reputation.

Green also served as president of Chevron Indonesia Company and managing director of the Chevron IndoAsia Business Unit from 2008 to 2011. During this time, he was responsible for all aspects of the business unit's oil, gas and geothermal operations, including exploration, production, project development and business support services.

Prior to joining Chevron, Green was chief executive officer of Unocal Thailand, Ltd., and vice president of International Energy Operations for Myanmar, Thailand and Vietnam from 2004 until Chevron's merger with Unocal in 2005. After the merger, Green served through 2007 as managing director of Chevron's Asia South business unit, adding Bangladesh, Cambodia and China to his previous responsibilities.

Green serves on the board of trustees of The First Tee. He is also a member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers.

Green joined Chevron in 2005 upon the merger with Unocal Corporation. He earned a bachelor's degree in engineering from Texas A&M University in 1980 and completed the Stanford Graduate School of Business Executive Program in 2003.

07/17